only being in the classroom or other settings or participating in the classroom or other settings.

Adaptations make the difference!

Adaptations provide a way to:

- Maximize opportunities for face to face interactions between students;

- Increase the student's opportunities to be an initiator & active participant;

- Reduce the amount of abstract information and increase the opportunities for students to learn concepts and ideas in real and concrete ways;

- Make the information relevant to the student's current and future life;

- Individualize lesson content; and

- Help create a match between the student's learning style and the teacher's teaching style!